MAESTRO ALESSANDRO SCURI NEW DIRECTOR FOR GLEE CLUB

The BERA Glee Club, which has been in search of a director since its organization, last week extended an invitation to Maestro Alessandro Scuri, renowned composer and conductor, to visit the Laboratory and hear the group. Mr. Scuri accepted and at the end of the evening expressed an interest in working with the Club.

Mr. Scuri, who is living in Bayport, for many years conducted the Metropolitan Opera. In his earlier years, he was a Professor at the Milan Conservatory in Italy and has performed as a concert pianist internationally. He has conducted such operettas as "Naughty Marietta," for Hammerstein Sr., and has worked with many choral groups, with varied repertoires.

The next meeting of the Glee Club will be held with Mr. Scuri on TUESDAY evening, FEBRUARY 19. This session is not only for regular members, but for all others who are seriously interested in choral singing and who have not yet come out for the meetings.

Here is the chance that the Glee Club has been hoping for: the opportunity to develop an accomplished choral group at Brookhaven. All those who have done choral work in the

FOURTH CONCERT - BERA 1951-52 SERIES

The Griller String Quartet

Sidney Griller, first violin
Jack O'Brien, second violin
Philip Burton, viola
Colin Hampton, violincello

Monday, February 18, 1952 Research Staff Lounge

The Griller String Quartet, which will appear at the Lab next Monday evening, was formed at the Royal Academy of Music in London in 1929, and has played continuously with no changes in personnel. Prior to the war they performed over 800 concerts both in England and on the Continent and were well established as the foremost chamber music ensemble in England. Their U.S. debut in 1939 was followed by a 60 concert tour in this country. During the war they joined the RAF as a unit, becoming the official quartet of the British Air Forces, and during this period played as many as 227 concerts a year. Since the war they have resumed their concert tours both here and abroad and have maintained their position as one of the leading quartets which can be heard in this country.

The program will be as follows:

I

Quartet in E Flat Opus 64 No. 6. . . Haydn
(in four movements)

Quartet No. 2 (Dedicated to the Griller String Quartet) . . . Arthur Bliss
(in four movements)

past--who like to sing--who enjoy working under an inspiring director--are urged to come to this meeting.

Mr. Scuri's decision to continue directing the BERA Glee Club will depend, in large part, on the response to the idea of an enlarged and active choral group.
